ZION WOMAN ON WARPATH; WILL SEE WHO'S BOSS

She Chides Men for Letting Voliva Close Schools

Zion, Ill., April 18—(AP)—Wilbur Glenn Voliva's absolute monarchy of Zion for 20 years crumbled today as his latest edict, closing the religious colony's schools, was openly violated.

Two public schools reopened for their 300 pupils, despite Voliva's dictate, and plans were laid to provide facilities for 1,000 students left without classrooms as the closing of the two parochial schools of Voliva's Christian Apostolic church.

"That's gratitude for you," Overseer Voliva, commented when informed the school board and some of the citizenry had risen against him. "After all I've done for this community."

Had Little Choice

The seven members of the school board had little choice except to open the schools, it was disclosed. If they had not, W. C. Petty, Superintendent of the Lake County Schools, had planned to remove them for "negligence of duty" as provided by law and declare a new election.

The board decided to continue school for six weeks, with four hour sessions afternoon and morning in the public schools to provide for the parochial students in addition to their own pupils. Voliva had intended to close them May 1. New buildings will be available when the autumn term opens, the board promised.

In response to Voliva's claims that money was lacking for the schools, Voliva's opponents obtained from Fred Hummel, receiver for Zion Industries, Inc., once a $100,000 industrial concern, a promise that he would issue script tax warrants to provide revenue.

Zion, Ill., April 18—(AP)—A woman was on the warpath today to see what—if anything—could be done to upset the power of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, religious leader whose edict to close the Zion schools started all the hubbub. The State Superintendent of Schools at Springfield, the state Capital, has said that he is powerless to act.

The woman is Mrs. Onias W. Farley, wife of the man who defeated Sylvester H. De Pew, Voliva's candidate for president of the public school board.

She gave vent to her Amazonian mood last night by attempting to beard Voliva, Overseer of the Christian Apostolic church, in his own home. Denied admittance, Mrs. Farley stood on the sidewalk outside and delivered an address to a gathering crowd.

"The men of this town," she cried, "are cowards. If they had any spunk they would run Voliva out of town. Since they won't, I'm going to get some women together and we'll show him who's boss here."

Fights Broke Out

Cheers and jeers greeted her remarks. A number of fist fights broke out. Police finally persuaded Mrs. Farley to go home.

Voliva made good yesterday his threat to "crack the town wide open" if his school board candidates were not elected. After he had ordered the parochial school closed, his school board issued an order saying that Zion couldn't afford to support the schools this year because of a shortage of funds.

"I have had this move under contemplation for some time," said Voliva with reference to the closing of the church school. "I did it to teach the people of Zion a lesson. I have been too benevolent with them before. I have supported parochial schools in Zion since 1916. I have saved the taxpayers $1,143,550 in taxes which they would have had to spend to educate the pupils educated in my school."

"The election showed the people of Zion are unappreciative of Wilbur Glenn Voliva."

WILL LOSE STATE AID

Springfield, Ill., April 18—(AP)—Zion will lose about $2,000 in state aid funds as the result of Wilbur Glenn Voliva's order closing the schools, Francis G. Blair, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, said today.

Schools must conduct classes for at least eight months a year to be eligible for state distributive funds, Blair stated, and Voliva's order will cut short the Zion term to less than the legal limit.

No written communication concerning the Zion situation has been received, Blair said, but a conference was held with the Lake County Superintendent of Schools by telephone.

Blair stated he would not intervene in the situation since he had no power to order the reopening of schools. The Zion schools have received $2,988 annually from the state in the past.

Zion schools have caused the state Public Instruction Department trouble in the past, officials said, because of the divergence of educational ideas between Voliva and the state officials.

HOUSE UPHOLDS VETO OF LIQUOR TAX DIVERSION

Vote to Override Gov. Horner Today was Only 65 to 35

Springfield, Ill., April 18—(AP)—The House today upheld Governor Horner's veto of the liquor diversion bill for school relief.

Republican opponents of the administration program received only 65 of the necessary 102 votes to enact the bill over the Governor's objections.

Democrats cast 35 votes for sustaining the veto.

Speaker Arthur Roe ruled that the unsuccessful roll call could not be suspended and that the House action was final, definitely killing the bill that was sent to the Governor's desk in the pre-primary campaign hullabaloo late last month.

Beer-Bar Veto Next

David L. Swanson, Chicago Republican, contended that another attempt to over-ride the veto could be made, however, at any time during the third special session.

Speaker Roe ruled unexpectedly today that a attempt to over-ride Horner's veto of the beer-over-bars bill may be made at any time during the second special legislative session.

Representatives Allen and Collins of the 35th district voted to over-ride, while Rep. Devine voted to sustain the Governor.

FOUR MET DEATH IN FLAMES WHEN PLANE CRASHED

Two Men, Two Women Met Frightful End in Texas Field

Lewisville, Tex., April 18—(AP)—Four charred bodies, those of two men and two women, today were freed from the twisted wreckage of a cabin plane that crashed here late last night.

Two farmers who witnessed the tragedy, aided by neighbors, lifted the bodies of the occupants from the cooling steel of the demolished plane. The bodies were placed in the soggy mud beside the plane to await arrival of a truck—the only possible means of transporting the country lane between the scene of the crash and Lewisville, a distance of nine miles.

The dead are: Harry Fowler, 36, Dallas, pilot. Jack Poole, 40, Dallas. Lillian Rose, 18, Dallas. An unidentified woman.

On Pleasure Flight

Airport officials said the party of four left Love Field, Dallas, shortly after 10 P. M. for a local spin. Fowler was a World War pilot.

Several minutes later the plane tore through murky weather near Lewisville. Two farmers noticed the plane apparently had run into trouble and followed its actions.

One farmer, whose name was not learned, described the crash.

"I never saw a plane flying so fast. It came in from the south-east, circling and circling. Each time it seemed to get lower to the ground. It looked as if the pilot had apparently lost control of the ship. Suddenly it struck the ground with terrific force and bounced about 50 feet."

"Flames shot out from the ship—reaching at least 100 feet into the air. The flames roared for fully a half hour before they died out."

FORMER LEE CO. MAN DIED IN NEW ORLEANS TUESDAY

G. H. T. Shaw, Prominent Civil Engineer, Passed Away in Dixie

George H. T. Shaw, well known throughout Lee county, a former resident of Dixon and Lee Center, and prominent in civil engineering circles, passed away late yesterday afternoon at a hospital at New Orleans, La., word of his passing being received by his brother, Sherman L. Shaw at Lee Center last evening.

Mr. Shaw had been removed to the New Orleans hospital early last week and submitted to an operation the latter part of the week, from which he failed to rally. His daughter, Miss Gwendolin Shaw, a teacher in the state Normal College at Mankato, Minn., had been summoned to his bedside.

Several years ago Mr. Shaw was associated with the late B. F. Lane in the real estate business in this city and Lee Center. His wife preceded him in death last July. He is survived by his daughter, Miss Gwendolin; one son, Clark, who resides in Wisconsin; one sister, Mrs. P. T. Leonard of Chicago; and two brothers, Sherman L. Shaw of Lee Center and Arthur O. New Orleans. The latter and the daughter Miss Gwendolin will accompany the remains, which are expected to arrive in Dixon Friday noon.

Funeral services will probably be conducted in Dixon Friday afternoon with interment in Woodside cemetery at Lee Center. The arrangements for the service had not been completed late today and will be announced later.

Native of Lee Co.

George H. T. Shaw was born in Lee Center township June 13, 1869, the son of James Monroe and Rebecca (Linn) Shaw. He received his education in the Lee Center schools, Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Ia., and the University of Michigan, pursuing the course of civil engineering in which he became exceptionally proficient.

In 1923 he began practicing his profession for various railroad companies and in 1933 he assisted in the survey for a railroad in the Republic of Columbia, South America. In the fall of that year he established what he intended to be a permanent office in Dixon, but a few years later he found his real estate and investments business demanded the whole of his time, so he discontinued his engineering activities for some time. He was at that time extensively interested in lands and rice culture in Texas and Louisiana.

He conceived the idea of an electric railway from Dixon south, and much of the surveying was accomplished and some ties and rails were laid in Peoria avenue, Dixon, but the project, known as the Northern Illinois Electric Railway Co., of which he was president, failed to attain the success he had hoped for it.

In the later years of his life Mr. Shaw spent considerable time in Mexico as a civil engineer. He was married in 1899 to Sarah S. Clark, daughter of O. M. and Mary (Wright) Clark, who came to Lee county in the early '50s.

DIXON ARTISAN LEARNS HE HAS SKULL FRACTURE

Ira Schrock Suffered Injury Almost Fortnight Ago

Ira Schrock of this city, well known carpenter, is a patient in the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital, suffering from a skull fracture sustained several days ago. He was engaged in repairing a barn on a farm near Durand almost two weeks ago when the accident occurred. Another carpenter was carrying a wide board to the barn and a high wind struck it, tearing it out of his hand, the board striking Schrock in the back of the head.

At the time little attention was paid to the injury, Mr. Schrock having been stunned, but he continued his work. A few days ago a condition developed which required the attention of a physician and an x-ray examination disclosed a skull fracture. He was reported to be resting as comfortably as could be expected today and it is probable that he will submit to an operation later in the week.

FOUR AVIATION COMPANIES SUE POSTMASTER GEN.

Farley's Action in Cancelling Mail Contracts Basis

Washington, April 18—(AP)—Karl A. Crowley, Solicitor of the Postoffice Department, today characterized airmail suits against Postmaster General Farley as "a weak effort to evade the law which says that the United States government cannot be sued without its consent."

Four aviation companies whose airmail contracts were cancelled today asked the District of Columbia Supreme Court to enjoin James A. Farley from enforcing the cancellation order and to award them damages.

The exact amount of the damages sought was not specified. Attorneys said the companies had not yet been able to calculate their losses. The companies were Boeing Air Transport, Inc.; National Air Transport, Inc.; Pacific Air Transport and Varney Airlines.

The court gave Farley 20 days to show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

To Get Bids Soon

Harley Branch, Second Assistant Postmaster General in charge of airmail, said:

"From what we can learn, there is nothing in these suits to deter us from receiving the (new) bids and awarding contracts."

William Donovan, counsel for the lines, charged in a resume of his contentions that Farley "arbitrarily and in a manner contrary to law cancelled the contracts of these companies without giving them any notice or opportunity to present the true facts." He said they would seek "damages," but did not name any amount.

Farley had no immediate comment on the decision. Branch, however, said it had been his understanding that the parent United Company had planned to reorganize and bid for new temporary contracts.

Morris Votes for Bone-Dry Sabbath

Chicago, April 18—(AP)—A Sunday closing ordinance was voted by citizens of Morris yesterday in an election whose dominating issue was the sale of liquor on the Sabbath.

The issue had been forced to a popular vote by maneuvers of tavern keepers after the city council several weeks ago prohibited Sunday sales of liquor. A bone dry Sabbath was voted by 1,488 to 294. Leading citizens believe there will be a vote on local option within a year.

ONLY WAY CITY PARKS CAN BE KEPT IN SHAPE

Special Election Soon Will Determine Fate of Plots

The park situation in Dixon has reached a point where decisive measures must be taken at once or maintenance of the parks will collapse. The only feasible plan is the calling of a special election to authorize the organization of a park district. This is to be done at an early date.

A recent ruling by Atty. General Kerner prohibited the county officials from levying a tax for park purposes in this year's city taxes, with the result that the Dixon parks, including Lowell Park, are without visible means of support. The treasury of the Park Board is practically exhausted and there is no way of replenishing park funds unless a park district is authorized by the voters. The Park Board could then levy the necessary tax and the upkeep of the parks could be continued.

Most Have Districts

The local Park Board has been giving careful study to the unfortunate situation and has investigated conditions in other cities. They find that Dixon is almost the only city in the state with any sizeable park area which does not operate under the park district system.

At a meeting held last evening the park board formally passed a resolution declaring for the calling of a special election on the park district question. It was decided that the boundaries of the park district should include all of the area within the corporate limits of the city, the area bounded on the west by the Hazelwood Road and the east by Rock River, and including Lowell Park and the area embraced by Borden Park and Page Drive.

It is believed by the Park Board that the voters of the district included will readily give their endorsement to the plan, when it is pointed out to them that only by so-doing will they keep their parks in condition to be used by the public.

BANK ROBBERY IN LOUISIANA DILLINGER JOB?

Holdup Near Shreveport Laid to Jail Breaker Today

Shreveport, La., April 18—(AP)—The Bank of Montgomery, in Grant parish, 85 miles south of Shreveport, was robbed by an armed band this morning and the bank president said he believed the gang was led by John Dillinger.

The gang invaded the bank at 9:30 A. M., armed with a machine gun, seized cash and fled in a car, heading north toward Scheveport. L. D. Wardlaw, president of the bank, advised local authorities that the bandits were led by a man whose features tallied with those of Dillinger, whose picture was hanging on the wall of the bank at the time of the robbery.

Wardlaw said the amount of loot was not immediately determined.

WAS NOT SIGHTED

KINCAID CITY ELECTION ENDS IN FATAL RIOT

One Miner Killed, Five Others Wounded, Two Probably Fatally

Kincaid, Ill., Apr. 18—(AP)—Christian county's latest mine riot, in which local political rivalries armed union jealousies into gunfire, today had taken the life of one man and wounded five others. William Core, 37, Taylorville, a member of the United Mine Workers of America, was shot and killed from ambush late last night.

Two other miners were expected to die in a Taylorville hospital. They are:

Frank Angenendt, Kincaid, shot in the left jaw, chest and leg.

Sam Ronchetti, 35, Kincaid, shot in the right arm and shoulder.

Result of Election

The shooting grew out of the election yesterday of Angenendt and other United Mine Workers as village trustees of Kincaid, where political control had been in the hands of the rival union, the Progressive Miners of America.

Henry Jones, 45, Taylorville, was in a serious condition, with bullet wounds in the right arm and lung, but was expected to survive.

Others wounded were Harry A. Webb, 35, Kincaid, shot in the right arm and shoulder, and Douglas McWhinnie, Taylorville, shot in the left hand.

William Bough, Kincaid, was severely beaten in the rioting. Ronchetti was a member of the Progressive Union here, but the others were affiliated with the United Mine Workers, which has contracts to dig coal in the big mines of the Peabody Coal Company in Christian county.

Four Under Arrest

Four men were under arrest today, and warrants were issued for two members of the Kincaid special police force, which has supported the Progressive cause in the turbulent union scraps.

Trouble had been expected during the afternoon and one report was made to the Sheriff that election officials were armed.

Hundreds of special deputies patrolled highways leading into Kincaid, and its neighboring coal towns during the night, preventing further trouble.

Outward calm prevailed today. The Peabody mines worked as usual and there was no indication of further trouble.

Schrock was today sending out a call for a meeting of the assessors of the various townships of Lee county to be held in the county court room at 1:30 on the afternoon of that date. At that time the state supervisor will explain the new schedule and answer any questions arising relative to this spring's assessment program.

Nineteen assessors and county officials made the trip to Galesburg yesterday and attended the district meeting which was addressed by Chairman Scott W. Lucas and other members of the state tax commission.

Waukegan, Ill.—When he climbed underground in a 12-inch drain pipe 5-year-old George Clark, was rescued only after police and neighbors, armed with spades, dug down five feet, and broke the tile. The boy, son of the Superintendent of Schools, was screaming but unhurt, after his hour's ordeal.

Fought With Fists

A crowd broke into the first floor with a railroad rail, but policemen headed by D. D. Bazer, City of Police, fought them with bare fists and made them drop the rail.

Four or five members of the mob climbed to the third and fourth floors from the outside of the building, which placed them above the heavy steel gate locking the jail section, but officers stationed above quickly ejected them from the building.

Deputies and police guarded the Sheriff's office where the stairway leads up to the second floor. Using machine guns and pistols, they held the throng back there with desperate threats to shoot to kill.

The elevator was run to an upper story and locked while the disturbance raged.

Mutilated Girl

Sheriff Hughes reported that Lockhart had confessed to slaying the girl last Thursday after obtaining her mother's consent for her to attend his ill wife. Her body was found Sunday in a wooded section near Cross Lake on the outskirts of the city and was mutilated from (Continued on Page Two.)

3,000 Citizens Try to Get Attacker and Murderer

Shreveport, La., April 18—(AP)—Soldiers of Louisiana guarded a confessed girl-slayer today from any attempted renewal of the mob violence that swirled for hours last night around—and even inside—Caddo parish's million dollar court house.

The mob, growing in numbers during the night until near midnight it numbered nearly 3,000, was after Fred Lockhart, 38-year-old salesman of artificial butterflies. Earlier in the night he had confessed to Sheriff T. R. Hughes that it was he who attacked and killed 16-year-old Mae Giffin.

Stragglers from the mob milled about the jail early this morning, and there were reports that many men from outside the parish were on their way to join them. Officers were confident, however, that any further attack could be stopped by the two companies of National Guardsmen, hurriedly called to duty by Governor O. K. Allen when the advance of the mob threatened to overpower the Sheriff's resistance.

Confession Announced

Sheriff Hughes said that Lockhart confessed to luring the girl from the home of her widowed mother, and slaying her. Small crowds and groups of men about the jail, enraged by the murder of the girl, became so unmanageable after the confession was made known.

The crowd grew by hundreds into an excited throng estimated to number nearly 3,000. Mobsters, cursing and shouting, took possession of the basement and first floor of the combination courthouse-jail, threw bricks, swung clubs and cut fire hose until the National Guard from Shreveport began assembling shortly after midnight. Lockhart was in the jail on the seventh floor.

By 2 o'clock the rioters inside the building had been driven to the outside and the howling mob began breaking up.

Under orders from Governor Allen, Colonel Hollingsworth Barrett, commanding Company E, 15th Infantry of Shreveport, took command of the situation, releasing the tension that had existed in the siege laid against some three score parish officers, city police and special deputies who commanded the stairway leading to the second floor with machine guns, pistols, and tear gas bombs

No Subsistence

Farm in Township

Dixon township will not maintain a subsistence farm this season as was done very successfully last year, Supervisor D. H. Spencer has announced. The decision to drop the township farm plan during the coming summer was reached when the state aid regulations became known. The regulations and application forms for the new plan, which were considered as being unfeasible in Dixon township, were received here and after being investigated were returned to the state headquarters by Supervisor Spencer.

Washington, April 18—(AP)—

At the request of the defense in the trial of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., subpoenas were issued today for letters and speeches made by Representative Tinkham (R. Mass.) demanding that the Southern Methodist churchman be prosecuted.

The Bishop and Miss Ada L. Burroughs are on trial in District of Columbia Supreme Court on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Federal Corrupt Practices Act by failure to report to the Clerk of the House all of $53,900 received from Edwin C. Jameson, New York insurance agent.

Tinkham made his assertion on the floor of the House and later repeated them outside after a challenge from Cannon. The Bishop sued for $500,000.

By a bubbling brook
A robin red-breast flew.
Near the dusty roadside

Prospects for Concerts Brightest Since Year 1929

Miss Dena E. Harshbarger, president of the Civic Concert Service, Inc., and originator of the Civic Music Plan for building audiences, announces that the prospects for concerts during the 1934-35 season are the brightest since 1929. The few Civic Music cities that suspended operations during the worst months of the depression are making plans to hold early campaigns. The 90 per cent that continued functioning are better organized than they ever have been and are anticipating the largest enrollment in their histories.

Spring campaigns show an increase of from 20 to 40 per cent over last year. Some of this is due to the improvement in general conditions; in a greater extent, it is due to the increased interest in concerts and to the excellent organizations in these cities. Concerts are more firmly entrenched in civic life than ever before. In a great many cities the Civic Music concerts were the only entertainment held during the depression. This was due to the fact that the Civic Music Associations are permanent organizations and have continued to function in spite of bank failures and general havoc. The appreciation of this fact is clearly shown in the gain in members in these various cities.

Civic Music Plan 13 Years Old
Thirteen years ago the first Civic Music Association was established in Battle Creek, Michigan. Certain groups prophesied that the plan was impractical, that the Civic Music ideal was fine as an ideal, but that it would never work. It did work. Today there are approximately 300 cities operating under this same plan. Since the first association was established 1,128,000 people have joined Civic Music Associations, and over 9,600 concerts have been given before Civic Music audiences. There are Civic Music Associations in every state in the Union. The Civic Music Plan has proved that it is practical, economically sound, and the best means for communities to present concerts.

Meeting of Phidians on Tuesday

Mrs. W. A. McNichols and Mrs. W. S. Marloth entertained the members of the Phidian Art Club on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. McNichols, the meeting being most enjoyable.

Mrs. Z. W. Moss gave an interesting report of the meeting of club presidents in Chicago last week, telling of the speakers and musicians she heard.

Mrs. Dwight Chapman presented a paper on "Music of Today," which was both instructive and entertaining. She said that the real music of today is the music of yesterday and will also be the music of the future. She gave splendid comments on most of the noted composers, from Bach, the father and founder of great music; through Wagner, who marked a revolutionary trend in composition, to Debussy and others of the modern, romantic school whose works are symbolic, and suggestive of moods.

Mrs. Chapman gave added pleasure by playing excerpts from the compositions of Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Debussy and Prokofiev, illustrating distinct characteristics of each composer.

After the program, the hostesses served delicious refreshments, Mrs. W. H. Coppins and Mrs. L. W. Walter presiding at the tea table, which was gay with spring flowers.

I SET the table carefully
For tea, at five o'clock,
With yellow candles, amber cups,
Gold tulips in a crock.

THE bonbons were a rosy pink,
The frosted cakes and tarts,
Resembling foolish things like clowns
And leeks and birds and hearts.

I LOOKED nice upon a burnished tray.
I drew the curtains so
The firelight shined the room away
From street lamps and the snow.

I CURLED my hair and changed my dress
While little songs you hum
Made music all around the hearth
And then you didn't come!

REPEAL IS NEW FACTOR IN TRAFFIC PROBLEM.

It is still a great deal too early to get a fair slant on all the effects of repeal of the 18th amendment. Enough time has passed, however, to make at least one thing pretty clear. Repeal has unquestionably added to the difficulties of an already tangled automobile traffic situation.

The traffic commissioner of a representative metropolitan police department, pointing to the fact that this year's traffic fatalities are substantially higher than last year's asserts bluntly that "the most significant single factor is the novelty of legal drinking," and goes on to add that alcohol has figured in a larger percentage of fatal and less serious traffic accidents during the first three months of 1934 than in the first three months of 1933.

It is not only the fact that drunken drivers get out on the road that complicates matters—although this, of course, is the worst part of it.

Drunken pedestrians reel out into the street and get hit.
Furthermore, financial difficulties having caused most cities to reduce the scope of police activities, there are fewer "beat" patrolmen on the scene to collar such men and lug them off to the police station to sober up than there used to be.

And there is still another angle to it. There is more night life now in the average city. More people are on the streets after midnight than used to be the case—and not all of them are cold sober.

Empty roads on the edge of town are more dangerous now, along about 2 in the morning, than they used to be; exhilarated revellers, homeward bound, zip along such boulevards at breakneck speed and all too often reap the literal reward of such speed—broken necks.

All in all, the evidence is pretty strong to show that repeal has introduced an ominous new factor into the traffic problem.

What needs to be done in the face of this new factor is not at all clear. That there is hardly a city in America which has enough traffic policemen goes almost without saying.

That the police and the courts need to adopt a much more hard-boiled attitude toward traffic law violators is equally clear.

Most of all, however, we need a new sense of individual responsibility. The man who is driving a car is actually handling a weapon as dangerous as a loaded revolver.

It's perfectly safe if he handles it carefully. It's a nasty menace to public safety if he doesn't. And it's high time that every auto driver was forced to realize the fact.

A FAMOUS FAIR PASSES.

Sentimental ties between the United States and England, despite the ineffable bosh of magazine writers and after-dinner speakers, are extremely strong; and one thing in which Americans are sure to display a good deal of interest is the slow passage from the contemporary scene of some of old England's most ancient traditions and customs.

An example is the pending abolition of the famous Stourbridge Fair, at Cambridge.

This fair dates back to the year 1211. In the Middle Ages it was one of the most famous fairs in the world, bringing merchants and travelers from all over Europe.

Milton mentions it in "Paradise Lost." King Henry VIII levied on the fair's profits, in 1539, to relieve his own financial stringency.

Now, according to the London Sunday Times, the fair may be abolished. It has no practical value, and it is neglected by the general public.

Another time-honored custom, left behind by the tide of modern affairs, seems about to disappear forever.

POSTMASTERS BY MERIT.

Some time ago Postmaster General James A. Farley announced that he would ask Congress to pass a law putting all postmasters under civil service. Since then nothing further has been heard from his on the subject; and now a Republican, Representative Albert Carter, has taken the postmaster general at his word and has introduced just such a bill.

"This business of carrying and servicing the mails," says Representative Carter, "is one of the most important functions of the government. I am at a loss to see why anyone would object to having this service placed on a merit basis."

The ordinary taxpayer will find very little to quarrel with in this view. Whether Mr. Carter, Mr. Farley, or some other statesman eventually puts the reform through, it is a thing that is badly needed in the interest of the nation as a whole.

There are a lot of crackpots on earth who like war—any kind of war. But I'm not one of them.—Maj. Gen.
Smedley D. Butler.

All the present peanut politicians who run our governments could be replaced by one-third as many technicians and the system would be run far better.—John Yoss, Wisconsin "technocrat."

It will need more than a brain trust to turn the United States communistic.—Samuel Insull.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The farmer shouted, "Wheel What fun! My plowing shortly will be done. I think old Mister Scar-crow's hunch to use that crow was fine."

"I will give wee Scouty credit, too. At steering he knows what to do to make the bird fly real straight, so he can plow a very straight line."

Then Duncy shouted, "Let me
try my luck at plowing, Scouty.
I feel stiff and need some exercise.
I think that I know how."

"As soon as you get tired, just yell. I will take your place and it will be well." "All right, if you are so anxious," wee Scouty said,
"start plowing now."

So Duncy did, and it wasn't long till, as the big crow flew along, he straddled on the handles of the plow and had a ride.

"This made the Tines laugh, and one said, 'Look! He has turned work into fun.' 'You bet! That's why he wanted to start plowing,' Scouty cried.

The strap that held the crow

then broke, and Duncy shouted,
"Now the joke's on us. The bird has flown away. Oh, well, he's done his share."

The Scarecrow answered, "Yep, you are right. But now he sure knows wrong from right. He has had his punishment for stealing grain, so I don't care."

A little pond, not far away attracted Goldy. She cried, "Hey just look at all the funny ducks.
They are swimming around and around."

"I'll bet they are hungry as can be. I will feed them. Come along with me. Perhaps I can coax some of them to come out on the ground."

The farmer gave her crumbs of bread, and shortly little Goldy said
"Here, funny little ducklings, come and get a bite to eat."

The mother, and the small ones too, came waddling out because they knew that if they hung near Goldy they would have a dandy treat.

(The Tines start to town with the farmer in the next story.)

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

OUR ALL FOR THE KINGDOM

Text: Matt. 19:1-30.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
(Editor of Advance.)

The story of the rich young man who came to Jesus seeking the way of Eternal Life has made a profound impression upon human interest, though it does not seem to have had an equal effect upon spiritual attitudes and decisions of the will.

Wealth, though it need not necessarily be a barrier between man and God, and though it may in fact be made a means of grace and blessing, still constitutes a barrier that keeps men from the Kingdom of Heaven and from appropriating the reality of Eternal Life.

It is as true today as it was in the days when Jesus was on earth that where man's treasure is, there will his heart be also. The Kingdom of Heaven must be the first and supreme thing in a man's life or it cannot be there at all, just as in a modern world a man cannot be a citizen of one country and at the same time give his chief allegiance to another country.

The failure to grasp this keeps men from entering the Kingdom, just as it kept this young man who came to Jesus.

One should not in any way misunderstand the dramatic aspects of the narrative. This young man was not a mean or selfish person.
There is no indication that he was in any sense a money grabber.

Living Our Everyday Lives

AN ASINOMETER

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton
Samuel Butler was a part-time saint and an overtime cynic; but he had one funny fancy which ought to be worked out.

What we want, he said, is "a good automatic asinometer by which we can tell at moderate cost how great and how little of a fool we are." It is a million dollar idea, and a fortune awaits the inventor
of it.

As for design, the face of a doi-key would be perfect, but it must have a tiny dial in the forehead to register the degree of dumbness.
Then, too, it ought to be so made that the long ears would automatically drop in dejection, if the dial indicated too high a degree of stupidity.

To be complete, it should give forth a bray when our asinity goes beyond the limit and reaches the danger point. This could be done by employing the device used in making talking dolls, and it would add greatly to the usefulness of the machine, giving us fair warning.

How convenient such a device would be, registering the height and depth of our dumbness, as the speedometer on our car shows the gait at which we are driving! All of us would pay a good price for it, because, if wound up and working well, it would save us from many a blunder.

If only we had a little inward bray to warn us that we are saying or doing a foolish thing! No doubt it would break in upon some of our most self-satisfied moments —even our solemn moments—as,
for example, when we are gravely defending the Truth, as we call it, when in reality we are trying to protect some prejudice or grudge or fixed absurdity!

If only we had worn an asino-meter that day when we took the "primrose path," having persuaded ourselves that self-expression was so much nobler and more clever than plain selfishness. If we had heard its ironic bray when we talked so smartly to excuse ourselves from a plain duty, in order to shirk a burden which fell heavily upon another!

Alas how stupid we mortals are, foolish when we fancy we are wise, and wise, sometimes, when we fear we are foolish. How much wiser we should be if we had an asinometer to tell us when we are acting the ass!

HEREDITY AND DIABETES

The old saying, to be forewarned is to be forearmed, is as true in medicine as in any other realm.

Granted there are certain individuals with detectable constitutional weak points, it stands to reason that if we can discover these points of lowered resistance, we will better be able to shield them against undue strain.

This is easily appreciated in the case of defective vision, where eyesight is conserved by abstaining from excessive use of the eyes and by paying special attention to illumination.

We can make a similar provision

DRIVERS WE HATE TO MEET

Chicago Motor Club

An excellent route to an early end—passing a car on a hill.

in the case of diabetes, in which a hereditary factor long suspected has been demonstrated in recent years to exist.

The discovery of insulin and its phenomenal effectiveness in the treatment of diabetes has overshadowed the problem of the origin of the disease. This remains unsolved.

We know that diabetes is connected with the diminution or loss of the power or capacity of the pancreas to secrete a substance of internal secretion called insulin.
But we do not have final information on what causes a pancreas to fall behind in meeting the physiologic demands put upon it.

It is apparent different individuals come into the world with different pancreatic capacities, and some become diabetic because the narrow margin of safety which they carry in their pancreas is consumed and destroyed by disease injury or infection.

Whether an individual is liable to such an untoward development can be determined in a measure by inquiry into his heredity. Twenty-five per cent of all diabetic patients give a familiar history of diabetes—that is, a more than common number of diabetes cases is found among their blood relatives.

The value of this discovery is that susceptible individuals can exercise special precautions.
Tomorrow—Exercise.

Numerous Primaries to be Held Within Next Several Months

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Picturesque personalities are seeking nomination both for congress and state offices at primaries this year.

In Pennsylvania, which votes May 15, there are five candidates for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, including Senator David A. Reed and Governor Gifford Pinchot. Roland S. Morris, formerly Ambassador to Japan and Joseph F. Guffey, oil magnate, are candidates for the Democratic nomination. There are 16 candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor and five for the Democratic nomination, including George H. Earle, who resigned as Minister to Austria to enter the campaign, and William N. McNair, the first Democratic mayor Pittsburgh has had in years.

West Point Classmates
West Point classmates are seeking to be rival candidates for Governor of Oregon. Major General Ulysses Grant McAlexander is after the Republican nomination and Major General Charles Henry Martin, the Democratic nomination. Both are retired. They were graduated from the Military Academy in 1887. The primary is May 18.

George Ross Pou of Raleigh desires to succeed his father, the late E. W. Pou, as a member of the North Carolina delegation in the House of Representatives.

In Alabama, which has a primary May 1, former Senator Thomas J. Heflin is seeking a comeback by running for a Democratic nomination for the House.

Noted Woman Golfer
Miss Maureen Orcutt, noted golfer, desires to become a New Jersey legislator. Governor A. Harry Moore is to run for the United States Senate. Apparently he will receive the Democratic nomination without opposition. The primary is May 15.

In Massachusetts there is talk of Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., grandson and namesake of a famous Senator, being put up as a Republican candidate against Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat. The state will have a primary April 24 to select unpledged delegates to state conventions, which will reconvene candidates for primaries in September. Governor Joseph B. Ely, Democrat, is retiring.

Editor Endorsed
Thomas Moodie, editor of the Williston, N. D. Herald, once a printer's devil and later a railroad switchman, has been endorsed at a pre-primary convention for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

In Mississippi former Governor Theodore G. Bilbo is a candidate for the Senate. Cole L. Blaise, former Governor and Senator, desires to go to the Senate again from South Carolina.

Indiana on May 8 chooses delegates to state conventions. There is a bitter contest for control of the Democratic state convention between Governor Paul V. McNutt and R. Earl Peters, formerly State Chairman.

WARNEKE REAL STAR OF FIRST GAMES TUESDAY

Cubs' Ace Blanked Redlegs With One Hit in Opener

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

Major league baseball clubs today settled down to the serious business of daily games, hopeful the opening contests had set the keynote for the entire season.

Encouraged by fine weather, the fans poured through the turnstiles in greater numbers yesterday than in either of the past two seasons.

The world champion New York Giants attracted a crowd of about 37,000, and the faithful were rewarded by seeing Carl Hubbell, last year's world series hero, pitch four-hit ball to beat the Phillies, 6 to 1. The rebuilt Red Sox were the leading attractions of the American League as they clashed with the champion Washington Senators.

The crowd of 33,336 which filled Fenway Park was one of the best on record in Boston and it had plenty of thrills in an eleven inning struggle which Washington won, 6 to 5.

View of Warneke

Throng of about 30,000 also appeared at Brooklyn, where the Dodgers inaugurated Casey Stengel's managerial reign by beating the Boston Braves 8-7 in an exciting slugfest, and at Cincinnati, where the first view of the rebuilt Reds proved mostly to be a view of Lonnie Warneke, Chicago's stellar right hander.

Pitching in mid-season form, Warneke missed a no-hit, no-run game by one throw as he blanked the Redlegs 6-0 and whiffed 13 batters. Cincinnati didn't get a hit until after one was out in the ninth, when Adam Comorosky connected for a single. Chuck Klein, imported from Philadelphia to aid the Cubs' slugging, celebrated his debut with a home run.

Wilson Got Homer

Hubbell also hurled a masterful game for the Giants, who showed they were the same team of opportunity that won the world championship last year. They started out by scoring a run without a hit, then followed up with some timely batting in which Blondy Ryan stood out. Jimmy Wilson, Phil's manager, took Hubbell's shutout away with a homer in the seventh.

Washington's triumph came on an eleventh-inning run off Henry Johnson after the Red Sox had overcome a five run deficit to tie the score in the eighth. Manager Joe Cronin started the rally with a double that upset Johnson, so he hit one batsman and walked another. Then pinch batter Dave Harris hit a grounder which Buck Walters juggled long enough for Cronin to score.

18 Passes in Game

The Athletics staged a similar rally to defeat the highly touted Yankees 6-5 in a mixed-up game that saw 18 passes given out. A run behind in the ninth, the A's rallied to win when Bing Miller punted a pinch single for the third hit of the inning.

With 21,000 fans looking on, Cleveland's Indians made eight hits good for a 5 to 2 victory over Rogers Hornsby's Browns as Earl Averill smacked in three tallies with a homer and a double. Mickey Cochrane and his Detroit Tigers showed a new brand of scrappiness as they converted six blows into an 8 to 3 triumph over Chicago.

The St. Louis Cardinals, with Dizzy Dean holding forth on the mound, pounded out the day's high total of 13 hits and trimmed the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-1. Behind Dean's six hit hurling, Ducky Medwick socked a homer and two simgles and Pepper Martin hit a brace of doubles. Brooklyn and Boston also clouted the new National League ball effectively.

Homers by Dan Taylor and Hack Wilson contributed five runs to Brooklyn's early lead which lasted through a ninth inning rally by the Braves.

Do You Remember?

One Year Ago Today — Jim Browning successfully defended his heavyweight mat crown in a bout with Sammy Stein.

Five Years Ago Today — Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig knocked homers as the Yanks defeated Boston, 7-3, in the opening game of the season.

Ten Years Ago Today — Peter W. Foley, 70 years old, announced he would run in the Boston marathon, a distance of 26 miles, 385 yards.

Southpaw Clark's Arm Reported Well

New York, April 18 (AP)—William Watson Clark, once considered the equal of any southpaw in the National League, reported to the Giants today after undergoing treatment for a lame arm and announced he never felt better in his life.

Clark, who came to the Giants with Lefty O'Doul last summer in a trade that sent Sam Leslie to Brooklyn, has had a chronic bad arm, due to a pulled muscle under the shoulder. He was of little use last summer. Medical reports to Terry say the arm is well again.

Elwood "Kid" McReynolds of this city is scheduled to appear in one of the semi-final bouts at a boxing show to be held in the Peru Turner hall April 26, when he is matched to meet Fred Tyus of Peoria. Tyus was one of the successful boxers in the Golden Gloves tournament in February, and later was selected to accompany the team to New York City. He has never been seen in action before a local crowd but is rated as one of the best battlers in this locality.

Jack Sharkey of this city is also training daily for a return to the ring. Jack is said to have under consideration three important engagements in the very near future, but the dates have not been definitely decided and will be announced later.

FRANK PEARCE, PHIL PITCHER, MISSING TODAY

Police Asked to Inaugurate Search for 'Lost' Man

Philadelphia, Apr. 18 (AP)—Police have been asked to search for Frank Pearce, pitcher of the Philadelphia National League baseball club, who has been missing more than 24 hours.

Officials of the club said Pearce packed his bag to accompany the Phillies to New York for the opening game of the season yesterday and left it with his roommate, Curt Davis. They thought he had missed the train, but on their return to this city last night found no trace of him.

Pearce, who comes from Anchorage, Ky., was with the Phillies for his second season. In the middle of last summer he suffered an attack of heat prostration, cutting short a good start as a major league hurler.

Derby Dope

Louisville, Ky., Apr. 18 (AP)—With little more than two weeks remaining before the running of the 60th Kentucky Derby at the Churchill Downs, nine thoroughbred owners have nominees entered the best chances to win the $30,000 added stake May 5th.

The constantly shifting Derby odds indicate the turf owners with the strongest nominees are A. B. Gordon with Sir Thomas, Charles Fisher with Mita Harl, Norman W. Church with Riskulus, Mrs. John Hay Whitney, with Shining Wood, and Mrs. I. D. Sloane with Cavalcade and Time Clock.

Slightly less favored in the public eye are the chances of Col. E. R. Bradley with Bazaar and Bakers Dozen, Alfred G. Vanderbilt with Discovery, Mrs. Payne Whitney with Black Buddy and John Simonetti with Sgt. Byrne.

The list of ten favored owners compiled ten days ago was cut to the present nine with declaration that George D. Widener's nominee, Chieftain, Kawagoe and Jack Low, would not start in the Derby.

One of the better grade of Derby "dark horses" Mrs. Louise J. Hickman's Dusty Dawn, has been withdrawn from training, and will not start in the historic classic. This brings the list of almost certain non-starters to approximately a dozen, though all the 124 nominees remain eligible until entries are made the day before the race.

In two years, records of Oregon state penitentiary show that out of 987 new prisoners 44 were college graduates, 263 had high school education, 613 had common school educations, and only 23 were illiterate.

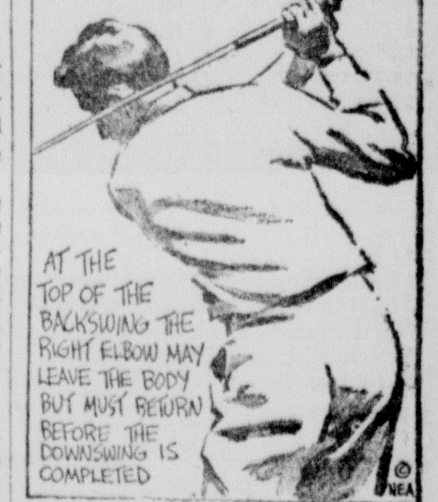

There are about 705,000 Basques in the world; these picturesque people inhabit both sides of the Pyrenees, but spurn the language of both their French and Spanish neighbors.

GOLF

By Art Krenz

MANY STARS GIVE BALL SLIGHT HOOK OFF TEA

AT THE TOP OF THE BACKSWING THE RIGHT ELBOW MAY LEAVE THE BODY BUT MUST REMAIN BEFORE THE DOWNSWING IS COMPLETED

Golfers watching star players in action may have noticed that most of them hit their tee shots with a slight hook. Seldom will you see them slicing consistently even if they are off their game.

The hook is acquired by hitting the ball from the inside. To accomplish it, the right elbow must be held fairly close to the body during the swing. Many good golfers allow the elbow to leave the body at the top of the backswing, but it is returned immediately at the start of the downswing.

If the right elbow is not returned to the body, the right hand is bound to assume too much control of the swing, and to force the club-head outside of the line of flight. This practice can only result in a sliced shot.

NO INCREASE in FORD V8 PRICES

Recently Announced, New, low Delivered Prices also remain in effect

The Ford Motor Company has announced that there will be no immediate advance in Ford V-8 prices. Recently-announced lower delivered prices also continue without change.

This decision is of vital importance to thousands of people who are considering the purchase of a car this Spring. It means that the Ford car (already occupying a unique position as the only car under $2,000.00 with a V-type, 8-cylinder engine) now becomes an even more outstanding investment in transportation and in motoring pleasure.

Known already to thousands as "The Car Without a Price Class," the Ford V-8 now moves, further than before, into a class by itself. Nationwide telegraphic response definitely indicates that Ford, already manufacturing America's fastest-selling car, will have to step up production even higher in April to meet a constantly-growing demand for the "Car Without a Price Class."

And Don't Forget—The following Special Equipment (which costs from $38.00 to $40.00 more on other cars) is furnished on Ford Deluxe models at no extra charge. Safety Glass throughout, Twin tail-lights, Twin cowl lamps, Two matched-tone horns, Cigar-lighter and Ash receptacles, Two adjustable sun-visors, Fenders that match the body, Colored wheels.

LOOK ABOVE FOR AMAZING PROOF

ONE by one, the old ways of making tires and tubes are being discarded. Goodrich, the oldest tire manufacturer, has pioneered new trouble-proof products that eliminate most all of the present day motor-ing hazards. One of these amazing new products is a tube that doesn't rip or tear... even when it is run flat after a puncture! And here's proof.

Goodrich made a lot of special tubes. One half of each tube was made of the new Gold and Black construction. The other half of the best old-style compound. Then they put them on cars and purposely ran them flat.

The old-style construction was torn to shreds. Ripped and cut to pieces in less than a mile.

Yet the Gold and Black half was sound and un-harmed by this terrific punishment.

Here's positive proof that this new tube is many, many times tougher... that it will resist chafing and rim cutting... that it will not weaken and burst.

And here's the big news! You pay no more for Goodrich Gold and Black Tubes. Come in today. Ask for the new Goodrich Silvertown Gold and Black Tube!

university, spurned professional baseball offers and turned his genius to oils and canvas. Bellows gained wide recognition for his paintings of American life and scenes.

OVERTHROW OF FRENCH GOV'T. TROTSKY'S PLAN

Sensational Plot Is Discovered by French Secret Service

Paris, April 18.—(AP)—A sensational plot by Leon Trotsky to use the February riots to set up his own dictatorship in France by a red revolution was revealed in his party organ, authorities disclosed today.

A revolution by "an armed workers' militia" was urged, they said, in a manifesto issued by the exiled former Russian leader after the fatal rioting in the streets of Paris on February 6.

"The two forces have just measured swords," the manifesto said. "War has begun between them. There is no possible peace, but is a fight to the death. In the street, by force, will be decided the future."

The manifesto urged "a vast workers' alliance of all proletarian bodies and the organization of a workers' militia without delay."

To Speed Expulsion

As a result of the new disclosure of the political activity of Trotsky, the government was expected to speed its moves for his expulsion, ordered yesterday.

Secret Service police revealed that several days of grace have been granted Trotsky for his search in an attempt to find a country willing to accept him.

"We are not pushing him," one member of the Secret Service said, despite the increasing information gathered regarding his plans for his "Fourth Internationale."

"One cannot condemn him to death," this official said. "That is what his immediate departure would mean. We are letting him find a haven."

Another official declared that reports Trotsky is considering the United States and Spain are "mere guesswork."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLO, a handsome youth accused of a murder he did not commit, escapes from Key West to Havana with two thieves, BEAU and LOTTIE. MARCIA TREADWAY, who could prove Pablo innocent, fears scandal and remains silent.

In Havana Pablo, under the name of "Juanito," becomes celebrated as a boxer and he and Beau open a gymnasium.

Pablo loves ESTELLE FIELD, daughter of rich JIM FIELD, and she loves him. They meet and plan to marry, but Field takes Estelle on a yachting cruise. Two years later, believing Pablo lost to her, she becomes engaged to ALEC DAVIDS.

SIR AUBREY, a titled Englishman and Pablo's father, has been carrying on a search for him, employing BILLINGS, New York detective.

Believing Estelle faithless, Pablo spends months in aimless travel and then returns to Havana. Beau and Lottie welcome him eagerly.

Meanwhile Field has lost his fortune. David breaks his engagement to Estelle and she and her father decide to return to Havana. Marcia Treadway, who goes to see them off, asks Field if he knows where Pablo is.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLII

FIELD chose his words slowly. "I know that he's wealthy," he said, "and—safe. I don't think I'll tell you any more, Marcia. Something I did a few years ago hurt the boy pretty bad. I'm not always quite so black as they paint me, you know. I wouldn't turn him over to the police now—even if I could."

"If you'll forgive me for saying it, Marcia, Ted Jeffries wasn't much good. There was no loss there and, as I said, I hurt the boy. At least, I heard so."

"But," Marcia interrupted tensely, "I can free him! I mean of those old charges. That's what I wanted to tell you, Jim. I went to Theresa Jeffries' rooms the night of the masquerade party. I followed Ted there. I had seen Theresa on the water with that naval man we called 'Red.' I thought it was safe, and Ted had been avoiding me all evening. I meant to see him and have a reckoning with him. He had hurt me—badly. I was mad about him and I wanted to accuse him and—to make him suffer. I wanted to hurt him—if I could—the way he'd hurt me. When I went in Theresa's rooms he was hunting through her desk. For letters, I think."

"I stood in the doorway for a moment, watching him. Then someone stepped from the dressing room. I thought it was Theresa's maid and stepped back into the hall but when I heard scuffling I looked into the room again. There was a short, stocky black-haired man leaning above Ted. It wasn't Pablo! He didn't do it! Jim! He didn't murder Ted. I'm not ashamed to tell about it. It's been terrible knowing—"

"Pablo," said Field slowly, "is in Cuba. He goes by the name of Juanito now. He's the boxer."

A MOMENT later Marcia was beside Estelle again. "I'm going with you!" Marcia sang out. Her cheeks were blazing and her eyes bright. "I'm going with you!"

Laughing unsteadily she went up the long gang plank with them. "I shall buy a toothbrush and lie abed, draped in a sheet, but just the same I'm going with you!"

She found that there was a state room available—a good one. A gentleman from St. Louis had failed to claim his reservation.

"Marcia," Estelle asked, "what does all this mean?"

She stood in the doorway of Marcia's room. The boat was already moving.

"Sit down, darling, and I'll tell you. Do you remember the boy who used to work at your father's camp—the one called Pablo? They said he killed Ted Jeffries. Well, he didn't do it!"

Estelle accepted Marcia's invitation to sit down and did so rather suddenly.

"Good heavens, child, you're pale!" Marcia interrupted herself. "Shall I get you a drink?"

"No, go on!" Estelle urged. "Tell me about Pablo."

.....

NORRIS NOYES sat in a New York law office. He was freshly arrayed, his beard trimmed to a point and his gray hair glistening. Across the desk from him sat his attorney, tilted back in his chair, fingertips touching as he looked at Noyes.

"And now," said the attorney, "since the unpleasant—aura, shall we say?—of gossip has cleared away you will be able to take up once more the life to which you were born. You can have all the comforts that you so richly merit by your superb action, take up your old interests again—"

"I want to find the boy I've told you about," Noyes answered flatly. "That's the only thing I'm interested in."

"You have unlimited funds to aid you in your search for him, Mr. Noyes."

Noyes arose, nodding. He said, "You won't forget that remittance I asked to have sent to the old woman who has my shack in Key West?"

"That will be attended to," "Thank you. I suppose that is all."

"Drop in when you can, Mr. Noyes. We'll be delighted to see you. Shall I—ah—put your name up for the Lotus Club?"

"No. Thank you quite as much."

He went away, realizing that he did not want either praise or sympathy. The thing that he had suffered for had been his own doing. He had married a very young girl whose beauty had later lost its appeal. Then when his need for more sustenance than there is in physical loveliness became acute he found Josie Martell who was not beautiful but whose words sparkled with wit and understanding and who saw something of interest in every dull surface. She had fed his mind and given him the companionship he sought.

Evening after evening he had spent with her in her home before she learned that he was married.

Then she had let him come once a month or even less frequently to talk with her as he always could, of nothing and yet of everything.

AS Noyes turned down Madison Avenue he felt the first whiff of spring, heralded by the florists' windows by the shout of jonquills. And as Noyes continued on his way Pablo, in the late afternoon of a warm Cuban day, walked a dirt road, saying to himself, "Why not? It wouldn't hurt me and it would mean everything to her."

He was trying to persuade himself to ask Lottie to marry him—Lottie who had loved him always and whose idea of heaven was made by the thought of his tightening arms.

"It might help me," he thought next, being a little human. The selfishness of that thought decided him. He would find Lottie and ask her now. Just as soon as he could get back to the apartment. He turned, hurrying, urged by the fear that he would not fulfill his intention.

When he reached the top of the stairs he found her reading, slowly and determinedly. He did not suspect that the reason Lottie read was because she had seen him so often with a book.

"Want to come walking with me?" he invited in a voice that was louder than he had intended it should be.

She rose instantly, eagerly. "Sure. What's come over you, Pablo?"

"Something nice," he answered and the pound of his heart so confused her that she did not notice the hollowness of his tone.

In the open they walked toward the country that spread warm and green and beautiful before them.

"I like walking with you," Lottie confided. "Our steps fit, even if you are so tall and take long steps. Two of mine are the same as one of yours—see?"

He chose to regard this as a good omen but did not make it the opening for what he had to say, even though he knew she would have liked such a speech. Pablo reminded himself that he must think of Lottie's ways now and not his. For a moment his heart grew cold. Then, after a deep breath which stiffened his resolve, he spoke.

"Lottie," he said slowly, "I've been wondering whether you would do me a great honor."

"Sure I would. I'd do anything for you. You know that, Pablo. What's come over you?"

"I want—I would like you to marry me," he said.

She stopped and so did he. "Oh, my God!" she whispered. Then she was crying, shaking in his arms, clinging to him. For a moment he could not bring himself to kiss her. Then he did, gently, and she clung to him more fiercely, sobbing harder, moving her short, thick hands over his arms and shoulders, whispering the shaken and passionate tale of her love for him.

At the Community high school last Saturday afternoon August Bohn received 251 votes and Harry Eaton 248 while the opposition gave Walter Delhotal 144 and John Derr, 142. This gratifying vote for the school is due to the fact that many changed their vote after they had visited and inspected the splendid new school building, built at so low a cost and its successful operation by the corps of earnest and efficient teachers. The building is kept in an immaculate condition by the janitors, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd McAllister. The American citizens will not be deprived of their inherent rights to good and adequate schools. The opposition was also defeated in the grades selection Saturday evening when Dell Draper was given 73 votes to 20 for Alfred White. Howard Wellman and Earl Conibear were not candidates, each received one vote.

Miss Katherine Ruppel spent the week end in Dixon.

"CRUCIFIXION"

THEME TONIGHT

Union Meetings Grow
in Interest at M.
E. Church Here

Job and First Peter were the subject of Mr. Halley's lecture last night at the Methodist church in the auspices of the Dixon Ministerial Association. Mr. Halley's method is to make a statement giving the background and heart thought of the book, and then recite sufficient of the language of the book to illustrate that. These two books deal with the Problem of Human Suffering. The grand lesson of the book of Job is that out of patient endurance of his suffering in the end he came to see God and was abundantly rewarded.
The background of First Peter was the Persecution of the Christians. While Nero was burning Christians in his gardens for his own entertainment, while it looked as if the church were about coming to the end of its then brief career, Peter wrote this letter to the churches of Asia Minor, where Christians had become more populous than any other part of the world, to encourage them to bear up under their persecutions, to think it not strange that the church had to suffer, that Christ did his work by suffering, and that the church ought not expect to go free, and to caution them to win in those trying times by the beauty and harmlessness of their lives.
The Bible teaching, he said, seems to be that, while we should do all we can reasonably to avoid suffering, yet, in the course of our Christian living, suffering comes upon us, then we should accept it as the will of God for ourselves, and not only be submissive, but to rejoice in it, to be happy when things hurt, and the more they hurt the happier to be.

The church was well-filled again last night. The interest seems to be growing. Four Sunday school classes came in a body, three from the Christian church, and one from the Baptist.

The subject tonight will be the Crucifixion, the holy of holies of the Bible story.

'NEW DEAL' NOT LIBERAL THEO.
ROOSEVELT SAYS

If It Prevails Individual Liberties Will be Lost

New York, April 18—(AP)—A campaign to rebuild the Republican party along liberal lines was launched today after an attack on the policies of President Roosevelt by his cousin, Col. Theodore Roosevelt.

The so-called new deal is not liberal and is not new," said Colonel Roosevelt. "...it is reactionary and un-American."

A leader of the younger and politically more active element of Republicanism, Colonel Roosevelt issued his denunciation last night at his installation as the new president of the National Republican Club.

With him were installed other young Republican leaders—among them F. Trubee Davison, former Assistant Secretary of War, as second vice president.

Backed by the older element of the club, the new leadership plotted a course of conferences and membership drives to make the club a center of Republicans and a major factor in national politics.

To Be Active Factor
"Together," said Colonel Roosevelt, "we will strive to make the National Republican Club an active factor in these critical days when the future of the nation is being determined."

Messages of congratulations or support came from United States Senators Charles L. McNary of Oregon; F. C. Walcott of Connecticut; and David A. Reed of Pennsylvania; Representative James W. Wadsworth of New York; Governor Frank Knox of California; Frank Knox, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, and William Allen White, editor, of Emporia, Kansas.

The keynote of the campaign was sounded by Colonel Roosevelt, who said: "If the so-called new deals prevail, the hard-bought gains for liberalism and individual liberty are lost."

The new deal, he said, "is not liberal because it is confessedly an attempt to reduce the American people to a 'regulated' group, submissive to the dictates of a small group or a single individual at the head of a vast bureaucracy." He said it is not American because "it predicates for the future an autocrat rather than a President."

Asbestos Was Found When Needed by the Country

Just when civilization began most to need it, asbestos was found, notes a writer in the Washington Star.

In the very nick of time, when we began to melt metals in fiery furnaces and to use red-hot machinery in thousands of factories, we learned of a substance which could be obtained from ordinary rock which would protect us from heat because it neither burns nor melts.

Asbestos is used practically everywhere today. In our homes, we have it in our kitchens in the shape of "hot handles" and it shields the pipes of our furnaces. Sometimes it is built into the very walls of our houses to make them fireproof.

When the earth's crust first hardened into rocks, millions and millions of years ago, some of the veins in the rock were filled with a stuff called serpentine. It is this serpentine which is the mother of asbestos.

Mined from rock in Georgia and Canada, serpentine is ground up into soft white pulpy stuff which is very light and quite tough. The pulp is then broken up, cleaned and carded like wool for weaving into cloth. Ordinarily, fine wires are woven into the cloth with the threads of asbestos, which, being rock crystal, would otherwise be too brittle to be durable.

Use Borden's milk. It is made in Dixon.
